EPIR | E-Procedure of Institutional Recognition of Foreign Higher Education Documents

OUTREACH PLAN

(WP4, University of Novi Sad)

Bearing in mind that the process of recognition of HE documents is the topic of global importance and that its effects influence institutional, regional and national levels of higher education, EPIR partners will use the results of their strategic partnership on this topic to inform other HEIs and stakeholders, both nationally and internationally, on best practices and solutions developed in the EPIR project and thus raise awareness of the benefits of developing and/or advancing digital tools and legal frameworks for institutional recognition of foreign higher education documents.

Project partners will promote its activities within partners' academic and scientific communities, as well as at wider EU and global forums.

Various modes and platforms of outreach:

- EPIR webiste
- HEIs webiste
- National, regional and international conferences on the topic of internationalisation/digitalisation of HE
- National, regional and international university fairs
- Academic papers dealing with the topic of internationalisation/digitalisation of HE
- Panel discussions within other EU projects dealing with i internationalisation/digitalisation of HE
- Dissemination and media events

The sharing and promoting of project results, new and upgraded information systems will be presented through participation of staff involved in the Project in events and workshops on how to attract foreign students; staff and student weeks on the topics of digitalisation and green policies in HE; papers in local, national and international conferences dedicated to HE digitalisation transformation; participation in round tables and expert meetings with regulatory bodies in the respective countries, etc. The main target groups for sharing the project results:

- Institutional and national HE leaders and policy makers
- Stakeholders and participants of the process of recognition of foreign higher education documents
- Current and prospective international student population interested in the European Higher Education Area (EHEA)

All EPIR partners are encouraged to keep track of outreach events, both during and after the Project life span, by collecting the relevant data and making it visible.
